Standard Tuning, Capo at 2nd Fret (all chord names below are relative to the capo)

INTRO

Em C(maj7) G(6) A Em C(maj7) G(6) A

VERSE 1

Em C(maj7)
When he first met her she seemed quite manic

G(6) A
Screaming out lyrics at passing traffic

Em C(maj7) G(6) A
Grooving away to her inside song, he heard the chorus so he sung along...

Em C(maj7) G(6) A
(junk bond trader)

VERSE 2 & 3

Em C(maj7)
He took her to a place that dealt in organics

G(6) A
I think it was called a "Mother Nature's Planet"

Em C(maj7) G(6) A
He paid for her large chai tea, but all the while he was invading her reality

Em C(maj7) G(6) A
Spoke to her with words by Yeats, or maybe it was Hendrix, maybe it was Keats

Em C(maj7)
Stole his way back to her bed

G(6) A Em C(maj7) G(6) A
But he could never stop the music playing in her head...

CHORUS 1

Em D(sus2) C
Because her music still plays Da da da

Em C D(sus2)
Her music still plays Da da da

Em D(sus2) C
Her music still plays Da da da

Em C(maj7) D D_{sus}^{4*} D Em C(maj7)
Her music still pla - a - a - - ays..... quietly, slightly

G⁽⁶⁾ A Em
(and quietly, slightly)

VERSE 4 & 5

(Em) C(maj7)
The dawn light brought her nothing to borrow

G⁽⁶⁾ A⁶
And neither did a hundred, thousand tomorrows

Em C(maj7)
Most mornings she found him in a corner

G⁽⁶⁾ A⁶
A condition that he had and always failed to warn her

Em C(maj7)
He only feels joy when he suffers

G A⁶
Which is great for a poet but it's lousy for a lover

Em C(maj7)
And so he'd stumble to a different venue

G⁽⁶⁾ A⁶
Where you have to pay and "click to continue"

Em C(maj7)
Like everyone they found their own meaning

G⁽⁶⁾ A⁶ Em C^(maj7) G⁽⁶⁾ A
 But he never could stop that girl from dreamin'

CHORUS 2

Em D^(sus2) C
 Because her music still plays Da da da

Em C D^(sus2)
 Her music still plays Da da da

Em D^(sus2) C
 Her music still plays Da da da

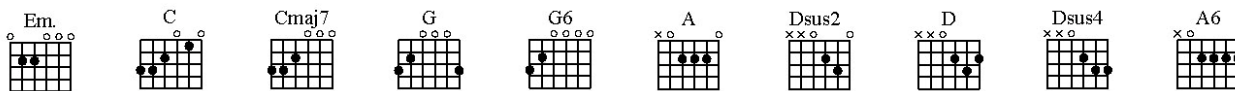

Em C^(maj7) D D^{sus4*} D Em C^(maj7)
 Her music still pla - a - a - - ays..... quietly, slightly

G⁽⁶⁾ A Em
 (and quietly, slightly)

OUTRO (repeat and fade the following lines)

(Em) D^(sus2) C Em C D^(sus2)
 Her music still plays Da da da Her music still plays Da da da
 (junk bond trader) (and quietly, slightly)

CHORDS (relative to capo):

This song is played with a capo on the 2nd fret, so all the chords shown above are relative to that. For example, the "C" chords shown above actually sound as "D", etc.

NOTES:

The chords with names in parentheses designate optional embellishments - you can alternate between or choose from one or the other version of the chord. For example, wherever you see "C(maj7)", feel free to play "C", "Cmaj7", or some combination of both within the strumming pattern. The "Dsus4*" chord designates a quick alternating strumming pattern between "D", "Dsus2", and "Dsus4" (listen to the song to hear the exact pattern).
